Smiling Eyes a Reward as W&P Helps Young People with Disabilities

[12/16/2014] Counseling, integrating, and walking alongside children and youth with disabilities—that's the mission statement of BiB e.V. (Verein zur Betreuung und Integration behinderter Kinder und Jugendlicher), a Munich-based association that helps young people with disabilities, as well their families and relatives, deal with the cares and issues of everyday life.

Founded in 1988 and now spearheaded by 340 dedicated people, BiB e.V. provides on-call services for respective families in the city of Munich and surrounding areas. BiB's services include referring and qualifying volunteers to walk alongside families of youngsters with disabilities and their children's school caregivers. BiB also assists school social workers and arranges fun recreation activities, such as weeklong and weekend retreats.

Supporting this immensely important endeavor, Ms. Julia Wieselhuber—a managing partner at W&P GmbH—presented W&P's 2014 Christmas donation to Mr. Franz Göppel, managing director of the association. Deeply impressed by their efforts, Ms. Wieselhuber said, "BiB's volunteers provide so much joy and independence to these children and youngsters. We need more role models like these. They truly deserve everyone's support."

Presenting BiB with a check for 3,000 euros, Ms. Wieselhuber and Mr. Gustl F. Thum, Director of Marketing and PR at Dr. Wieselhuber & Partner GmbH, were also able to meet some of the children supported by the association. "BiB makes life easier for these young people—and brings a smile to their eyes. Being able to experience their joy is a huge gift to us!" noted Mr. Thum.
